A Delicious Portfolio Of Drinks With Innovation At It's Heart

Pea and Proud

Pod pea vodka, made with British peas, celebrates the best of local brilliance and the delicious power of the pea whilst protecting our planet.

Quintessentially British

Greatness can be found close to home so Pod sources what they can locally and sustainably. Take our bottle for example, made from UK sourced sand – keeping carbon footprint low – and using glass destined for further processing, resulting in less waste and using less energy.

That's why the Pod bottles vary slightly in colour but not in its commitment to being green. Like the pea, our bottles are perfectly imperfect.

People, Purpose, Planet

With a focus on our Three P's it was imperative that Pod embodied the Ten Locks ethos. Pod has been carefully considered, to be here for a good time and a long time.

Pod Pea Vodka

Made from 100% British peas, Pod starts out from field to bottle. Our peas are turned into flour and then fermented for up to 7 weeks, followed by a single distillation in our bespoke copper still in our homeland, Manchester. Our still is steam heated which means we release lower C02 emissions, and it also uses less energy. We also use local water from the nearby Lake district to ensure Pod is made with the purest ingredients.

A truly individual, flavourful, modern vodka. Expect sweet, vegetal pea notes with a touch of citrus, a light savoury tone and silky finish.

Pod can be enjoyed simply topped with soda for the Easy-peasy, or mixed into cocktails like the MartiPea, Bloody Mary or Petit Pois Fizz.

Every Drop - A Celebration of Passion and Heritage...

Named in honour of the people of Tequila, El Tequileño was founded in 1959 by Don Jorge Salles Cuervo with a vision to create only the finest tequila. Sixty years later, El Tequileño is made in the same place using the same recipe by the grandson of Don Jorge.

Traditional Techniques

A true respect for ingredients and techniques - from using the finest Blue Agave developed in the premium growing region of Los Altos de Jalisco, combined with natural volcanic spring water. Both of these key components are processed with open fermentation, influenced by 150 year old mango trees and twice-distilled in copper pot stills.

Reducing Waste

El Tequileño takes pride in their sustainability efforts. 98% of the distillery residuals from production are recycled and turned into natural fertilizer for the next generation of agaves. In addition, El Tequileño are leading the conservation efforts of the spring water from the Volcán de Tequila.

El Tequileño - Blanco

BANH EZ MEZCAL ARTESANAL

BANHEZ means "bliss"

Heritage and heart are the key components for the award winning mezcal, Banhez. Creating somewhat of a utopia, founder, Francisco Javier Perez Cruz has worked to improve lives in his beautiful hometown, Oaxaca, Mexico, now and for generations to come.

Generations of Tradition

An 8 step process begins with organically grown agaves, surrounded by wildlife to keep the crops healthy and give a unique flavour impression. Followed by artisanal techniques, earthen wood-fire ovens lined with local river stone, tahonas pulled by horses, natural fermentation and small-batch distillation make this a truly hand crafted product.

Working Together -The Co-Op

A collective of individuals, families and communities work together under the banner, UPADEC, a co-operative, to produce Banhez. All involved, in some form contribute to the cultivation of agave and the production of the mezcal. UPADEC is not the only co-op in Oaxaca but it is one of the largest and certified non-profit, exemplifying an amazing, sustainable and culturally rich spirit.

Banhez Ensemble - Espadin & Barril

A sustainable blend of cultivated agave (90%Espadin, 10% Barril). A percentage of mezcal from various families is sourced and blended to create a consistent, quality spirit. By working members to prevent the over-harvesting of agaves the co-op provides sustainable income for all.

Sweet and dry with a round body. The mild earthiness and smokey tones serve as a backdrop to lime, banana, pineapple and pepper.

This is a spirit that can be served neat to sip and experience or used to create the classic Mexican cocktails – with a smokey edge.
